*1 BC dates are by Julian calendar, and minus one year if using astronomical software. For example, 3 BC of the Julian would be -2 when using astronomical software, and 4 BC of the Julian would be -3, and so on.

*2 There are a total of 24 priestly courses that the priests are divided up into. Each course is 8 days in duration (going from Sabbath to Sabbath), and is served in twice per year by the priests. This covers 48 weeks out of the year. In addition to this, all of the courses/groups serve together at the 3 annual pilgrimage feasts.

*3 From the time the sperm attaches to the egg to the time that the egg is actually fertilized/conceived can take up to 10 days. Zechar'yahu (Zechariah) had his vision during the 8th course, then upon completing his course of service likely had relations with Elisheva (Elizabeth) soon thereafter (sometime during the 9th course) causing Yehochanan (John) to be conceived within that 10 day time limit, and very possibly on the very day of Shavuot, which that year fell in the middle of the 10th course of service.
